

Mr. Man Your Spring Hat is Here

This year the particular man, like you, is going to wear either a Schoble or a Stetson.

Velours

Those soft, comfortable Velour Hats that were so popular last fall will be "just right" again for spring. But the colorings—soft greys, browns and mixtures—will be much more attractive.

Derbies

No extreme styles in Derbies this spring—mostly conservative shapes that will be generally becoming.

Benny Chavez Arrives in Albuquerque; Confident That He Can Beat Chico

NO CHANGE FOR ME TO LOSE, SAYS TRINIDAD BOY

Declares He Will Be on His Way to Los Angeles Week From Today, Not After Fight With Eddie Campi.

Benny Chavez and his sparring partner, Charlie Sales, will work out tonight in the N. M. A. C. gymnasium, 121 North Third street, and the fans are invited to turn out and watch the boys go through their stunts. Chavez and Sales will box four rounds, beginning shortly after eight o'clock. Boys of any weight up to 140 pounds who wish to work out with Chavez tonight are asked to put in an appearance tonight.

Benny Chavez, with his customary smile, and accompanied by Charlie Sales, a Trinidad crick, arrived in Albuquerque early this morning and this afternoon began training for his ten round bout with Battling Chico, of Los Angeles, scheduled to happen in the Elks theater on Thursday evening, February 20th, under the auspices of the New Mexico Athletic club. Chavez left Trinidad for Albuquerque three days ago, but stopped off in Las Vegas for two days to visit friends. "Never in better condition in my life," said Chavez today. "I am glad of the opportunity to fight Chico. If he is the stumbling block that I will have to get by before I gain recognition on the coast, I am ready to take the hurdle. One week from today I will be on my way to Los Angeles, where I will challenge Eddie Campi for any distance. I am going to beat Chico. I won't have any trouble. The only fighter that ever made me back up was Patcy Brannigan of Pittsburgh. I took the count from him and am not ashamed to own up to it, because at that time I had only been fighting six months and was a novice, a rank amateur, and the same since that time I have learned much. I welcome the opportunity to show what I can do against Chico. Bring him on, lead me to it."

BENNY CHAVEZ, Of Trinidad, who is supremely confident of beating Battling Chico next Thursday evening.

Perishes of Cold as Parent Wanders Lost in Storm; Father May Not Recover From Exposure.

(Special Correspondence to the Herald) Cuba, N. M., Feb. 12.—Word has just reached Cuba of the sad death of the young son of George Hutchins, a Cherokee Indian, an employee of E. M. Miers, at Putnam, N. M. Mr. Hutchins left this place during the recent snow, en route for Putnam. He was accompanied by his little boy. As the storm increased in its fury, the team got off the road and they became hopelessly lost. Mr. Hutchins took the boy on his back and wandered on for hours. When at last a settlement was reached the child was dead and Mr. Hutchins so badly frozen it is a question whether he will recover.

HOGS RESULT IN A LIVELY ENCOUNTER IN THAT DEAR LAS VEGAS

Las Vegas, N. M., Feb. 14.—Late yesterday evening Walter Hayward and E. M. Bagwell, both well known in the city, had a little argument which resulted in a fight. Bagwell is said, owed the Great and Hayward him a bill and some time ago sent in some eggs as a settlement. Yesterday Bagwell came into the Great and Hayward butcher shop and was informed, so the story goes, that he had sent in two hogs and had been given credit for that number. Bagwell, however, said he had sent in three hogs and wanted credit for that many. An argument was started and words passed that were not of a religious style, it is declared. Finally words wouldn't suffice further and manual strength was brought into play. After a couple of fast rounds the men were parted and the argument was then taken to court. Action was brought against Bagwell for assault and battery. Bagwell paid a fine and was released. Bagwell then swore out a complaint against Walter Hayward. This case was heard by Police Judge Murray late yesterday afternoon. Hayward withdrew his plea of not guilty to a charge of assault and battery. He was given a fine, which he paid.
